REPORTS.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

We need to remind ourselves afresh that the Church still has an important mission in education that cannot be surrendered. Changing conditions but emphasize the necessity of even greater activity. The fundamental demand of the Church for the training of character according to Christian ideas as the basis of all education is perhaps more imperative now than it has ever been. A selfishly commercial and a grossly material civilization threatens to suggest the methods, furnish the aims, and set the standards to the forms of education furnished by both State and private enterprise. The education which next a civilization demands will have for its chief aim the training of youth for practical efficiency in some trade or pursuit, and will have in view the making of an expert machine rather than the making of a man. When we consider, therefore, the subtle yet none the less profound and necessary influence of the time spirit upon our system of education, as thoughtful men we must insist that all education is defective that does not base itself upon the training of character. The Christian Church can nowhere else better preach this doctrine than through its institutions. These are the concrete witnesses of its faith, and the strength of its belief is measured by the Church's support of them. The very fact, for example, that South Carolina Methodism maintains its institutions of higher learning is an outstanding argument that the religious element dare not be left out of education. They are all—Wofford, Columbia, Lander, with our fitting schools—not mere piles of brick and mortar, not mere things for which we tax ourselves, but they represent the voice of the Church announcing its abiding conviction that the souls of men as well as their hands and brains may and should be trained to their highest efficiency.

In this conception we realize that there must be no lessening of our zeal in advocacy and support of our institutions. Their influence is needed to help hold modern educational thought true to the supreme value of religious training in every form of education, whether offered by State or private enterprise. In maintaining our institutions with even greater zeal and a larger generosity, we shall be rendering an inestimable service to the cause of education in general.

WOFFORD COLLEGE.

The college since its opening has matriculated 283 students. These, with 157 in the Fitting School, make 440 upon the campus, a gain of 34 over the last year. Twenty-one of these are students for the ministry. Every county in the State is represented in this number, and thus does Wofford's influence touch every section of South Carolina. This large number of students is gratifying to us, but problems and difficulties arise thereby. The resources of the college are strained to accommodate them and the strength of the faculty taxed almost beyond its capacity. In view of these facts, the necessity of completing the work of endowment now in the hands of Rev. R. A Child, agent, is imperative. We are further urged to complete the work being directed by Dr. Child, namely, the raising of one hundred thousand dollars by the 1st day of June, 1907, in order to fulfill the conditions made for receiving forty-five thousand dollars from outside the Church and State, that is to say, Mr. Andrew Carnegie and the General Education Board of New York offers, the one twenty thousand and the other twenty-five thousand dollars on condition that we raise the one hundred thousand by June 1st, 1907, on the endowment and ten thousand for the Whiteford Smith Memorial Library. Never before has the Church had a greater reason for helping itself than is given in this the gracious offers made her by strangers. Aid must now be given Dr. Child in the work, as the time is limited.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE.

This institution has entered upon the second year of its work, in its new location, with a large patronage. The enrollment for the first term of the present session is two hundred and eighty-four students. Two hundred and thirty-two of these are boarders. The distribution of these by classes is as follows: Seniors, 38; juniors, 50; sophomores, 78; freshmen, 88; sub-collegiate, 20; specials, 10.

It is gratifying to know that, of these entering the college this session, the great majority have registered for the degree course. The sudden advancement of the course of study a few years ago caused many of the students to shrink from undertaking the full course required for graduation. The result was that for several years the number of graduates was small. We are gratified to note that, although every session is marked by some advancement in the required course of study, our young women are earnestly, faithfully, and successfully meeting these demands. The president and faculty express themselves as being very highly pleased with the student body. On the whole, the students are earnest, devoted, and determined workers.

The Young Woman's Christian Association has a membership of 230.

All of the boarding students are members of the Church except 19.

We are devoutly thankful to be able to report that the health of the students has been most excellent.

About $4,000 was expended during the past summer for improvements and furnishings. The dormitories are all very comfortably furnished. These elegant buildings are all well heated, well lighted, and well ventilated.

The large patronage of the present session makes an immediate demand upon us for the building of an infirmary, as the one hundred and fifty dormitories are all needed for constant occupancy by students. We are highly gratified with the encouraging work of Rev. S. H. Zimmerman, financial agent of the college, and we do hereby pledge the Conference, not only to a hearty support of the college in the way of patronage, but also to a liberal and prompt response toward the liquidation of its indebtedness. Columbia College now occupies a large place in the thought and sentiment of the South Carolina Conference, and it is our ardent hope that she may soon be entirely freed from indebtedness that she may proceed on her great mission absolutely unhampered.

LANDER COLLEGE.

This institution is worthily popular. Her work for the girls seeking from her an education is wise and of high Christian purpose. The graduates of this college attest in their lives and characters the valuable work done in their education. The annual report shows the college to be in the midst of a prosperous year. The dormitories are well filled with boarders, and attendance upon the college is in advance of the past year. These young ladies are addressing themselves seriously to their work, and their deportment is highly spoken of by the president. Two changes have been made in the faculty and new members added to the teaching force. The town of Greenwood aids the college in keeping established a Lyceum Course, which brings to the students the best thoughts of noted lecturers. Fourteen such addresses were made during the past season.

The college has been able to meet all current expenses. As an auxiliary to the Church in South Carolina, Lander College is a strong factor. We commend her to the patronage of our people.

We recommend the following resolutions:

Whereas, at the session of the South Carolina Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, held at Darlington, S. C., in December, 1904, the property occupied by Lander College (then called the Williamston Female College) was tendered to this body and was accepted on condition that the debt due on same be paid in two years ;

And, whereas, the time for said payment has nearly expired, and the debt, while largely reduced, has not been paid in full,

And, whereas, the value of said property is at market price at least five times the amount remaining due,

Resolved. That this Conference hereby accept the property occupied by Lander College in the city of Greenwood, S. C., with its unpaid balance of debt ; that Rev. R. A. Child, president of the Legal Conference, is hereby authorized to approve the necessary conveyance of said property to this Conference ; and that the Board of Trustees to be elected by this body be empowered to take steps necessary to raise money to pay the indebtedness due thereon.

CARLISLE FITTING SCHOOL.

We are glad to report that the Carlisle Fitting School is in good working order. Our new headmaster, W. S. Hogan, Jr., with his assistants, W. D. Roberts, J. C. Guilds, Jr., and Miss Lena Walser, has the work well in hand, and the prospects of the school are bright. Short crops in that section have interfered materially with the attendance this year. The enrollment for 1906-7 to date is 75. We have assurances that others will enter at the beginning of the second term.

The school property is worth $30,000. The endowment of $5,000, a gift from the late Gen. F. M. Bamberg, is safely invested, bringing in an annual income of $500. All expenses have been paid, and about $500 surplus remained, which was expended on improvements.

All things considered the health of the student body has been remarkably good. Only one case of serious sickness occurred during the past session. Pure artesian water flows into both dormitories, and is the only water used for both drinking and cooking purpose.

During the past summer all of the buildings have been repaired and renovated. Five hundred dollars was expended on improvements. A new artesian well has been bored and electric lights have been installed in all of the buildings and dormitories. In addition to the regular studies, classes have been organized in Greek and French.

COKESBURY CONFERENCE SCHOOL.

It is with a sense of deep gratitude that we view the increasing confidence of the public in the workings of this institution. No clearer evidence of this can be shown than the number of boarding students, representing twenty counties within the bounds of this Conference. There have been enrolled up to this time eighty-five pupils, and several others have engaged board and will enter after the Christmas holidays. We believe the work done by this body of students, in the main reflects much credit on the school. We endorse the action of the Board of Trustees in their effort to raise one thousand dollars for improvements, through the assistance of Rev. S. D. Vaughan.

CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL.

We note with pleasure the rapid growth of our Correspondence School. There are now 852 students pursuing courses of study in this institution, 45 of whom are members of this Conference.

We especially give our endorsement to the effort of the Correspondence School to furnish courses of lectures during the sessions of the Annual Conference. This work cannot be too highly commended.

This Conference has heard with profound pleasure and profit the lectures of Dr. W. F. Tillett, Dean of the Theological Department of Vanderbilt University, and our thanks are hereby tendered him for the same.

Sunday School Board.

Believing that the ultimate triumph of the kingdom of God is to be brought about by the Christian training of the children, and that many of our people do not yet recognize the extreme necessity of religious child-training, we urge upon all our pastors to make most earnest endeavor to secure the best possible service for our children in the Sunday Schools.

To aid in this, we heartily recommend that all our teachers take the teacher training course, and that every pastor shall preach especially to children at least once a year.

We are sincerely of the opinion that every school will be helped by having a Children's Day, and we insist that they shall. The collection on that day is of increased importance, now that it is also to endow a chair of religious pedagogy and Sunday schools in Vanderbilt University.

We recommend that there be annually a Sunday School Conference in every district.

We request that every member of the incoming Sunday School Board be a committee to present the Sunday school work before his District Conference and ask the presiding elders to give special attention to this work.

A Year Book was issued this year, and plans are made to send out one in 1907.

God has been gracious to our work this year, and we pray His continued loving kindness.

Report of Committee on Books and Periodicals.

The continued and increasing prosperity of our Publishing House is a matter for profound gratitude on the part of the Church. The very large business done by the house is one of which the Church can well afford to be proud. An examination of the various catalogues sent out by them reveals the fact that their prices are not exorbitant, but reasonable. Your committee would call the attention of the preachers to that paragraph in our Discipline that makes it the duty of the pastors to circulate religious literature among our people. By complying with this paragraph much effective work can be done for the cause of Christ.

The Christian Advocate has been very much improved. It is a religious paper of a very high order, and is to be commended for keeping its readers in touch with the work of the whole Church. We regret that the practice of giving the news from the various Conferences in alphabetical order has been abandoned.

We rejoice in the extensive circulation of the Children's Visitor, and hope the day is not far distant when every Sunday school will be supplied with this cheap but highly meritorious paper.

Our own Southern Christian Advocate is a first-class religious paper at a popular price. The paper used is of good quality, type large and clear, with few, if any, objectionable advertisements appearing therein. We have compared our paper with those of other Conferences, and we are not behind the foremost. We think our editor and publisher has rendered the Church a great service in reducing the price and nearly doubling the circulation. Our efforts on behalf of its circulation should not slack until it is in every Methodist home. If the editor could devote some space to the news of the week in addition to the present valued comment on leading events, the value of the paper would be enhanced with many rural subscribers.

G. W. Davis, Chairman.

Foster Speer, Secretary.

Sabbath Observance.

The Christian Sabbath is a divine institution, and its obligations upon man are perpetual and universal. But its purpose is not to throw around him restrictions and impose upon him burdens that tend to narrow life and rob it of its richness, but to afford him opportunities for gaining a freer and a more glorious life.

The rest of the Christian Sabbath makes its contribution to body mind, and heart—to the body not by making place for slothful indulgence, but by freeing from the burdens of ordinary toil—to the mind, not by providing for inaction, but by relieving it from the perplexing and wearying activities of every day life—to the heart, not by imposing legal exactions, but by gracious opportunities afforded for private, domestic, and social worship together with the heavenly fragrance and influence it sheds about us.

Your committee suggests that we, as a Christian people, seek to enter with greater fullness into the spirit of the Christian Sabbath, and drink more deeply of its blessedness. We furthermore suggest that as a Conference, we assure the American Sabbath Union of our sympathy with it in all wise efforts to secure a better observance of the Christian Sabbath, and that we will cooperate with it at such times and in such ways as seem to us wise.

B. J. Guess.

For the Committee.

Report of Board of Managers of Southern Christian Advocate.

It is gratifying to report that the Southern Christian Advocate under the management of Rev. S. A. Nettles, as editor and publisher, has reached a circulation of 10,500 copies, the largest in its history. The offer of the publisher to send the Advocate in clubs at the price of $1.00 has met with enthusiastic response. More than 5,000 new subscribers have been added during the year. Considered from an editorial and mechanical point of view, the Advocate was never better. It is worthy of the patronage of our people and the circulation should be increased until it is found in every Methodist home in the State. We believe it to be an important adjunct to the pastor in his work.

The publisher offers to make and keep the price of the Advocate at one dollar per year as long as it has a circulation of 10,000 subscribers paid in advance. We believe that 15,000 subscribers can be obtained within the next sixty days, if an enthusiastic effort is made to do so. Surely with so liberal an offer to furnish so excellent a paper for only a dollar a year every one will endeavor to place it in every home in our Church.

Early in the year Rev. G. H. Waddell resigned as assistant editor of the Advocate, and his resignation was accepted.

The Board of Managers last June, after due advertisement, awarded to S. A. Nettles the contract for publishing the Advocate for the next three years, to January 1st, 1910.

We recommend that during the next sixty days every preacher use his best efforts to place the Advocate in every home in his charge, and that the 10,000 paid up subscribers be sent in as soon as possible so that the price of one dollar a year may soon be open to every one.

Marion Dargan, Chairman.

W. A. Massebeau, Secretary pro tem,

Report on Minutes.

The Committee on Minutes respectfully submits the following report:

We have examined the financial statement of the editors and find the same to be correct.

We recommend—

1st. That an assessment of $1,000 be made on the Conference, and that $50 of this amount be allowed the Secretary for general expenses.

2d. That the editors have published, if practicable, not less than 7,000 copies of the Minutes.

We commend the excellent service rendered the Conference by the editors in getting out the edition of the Minutes for 1905.

We urge that the Minutes of the present session be issued not later than February 15, 1907.

We nominate as editors for this year Revs. E. O. Watson and S. H. Zimmerman.

J. W. SPEAKE, Chairman.

J. HUBERT NOLAND, Secretary.

Report on Temperance.

The position of our Church on the temperance question is unending, uncompromising opposition to the traffic in intoxicating liquors and to their use as a beverage.

It is the duty of those who have the Church's interest peculiarly in their care and direction to bring the entire membership as far as possible up to this position, both in theory and practice. Appeals to reason and the power of persuasion should be used to save our people from intemperance, and if these fail, the discipline of the Church should be rigidly, though kindly, enforced, for drunkenness cannot be tolerated amongst us.

The Church has spoken in no uncertain tones upon this subject, and her standards must be maintained. There can be no compromise—no letting down of the standard. There is no middle ground. There is no place for casuistry. Others may argue, if they wish, as to the best method of controlling the liquor traffic. With us it is not a question of control, but of complete prohibition. If it be true, as some assert, that as long as there is liquor, men will get it and drink it, at least let us not help men to get it nor encourage them to drink it. Rather let us use every possible effort to remove the temptation from them, whether that temptation is offered by the State or by individuals.

We do not believe the blessing of God will rest upon any revenue that is obtained by the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage, and it is no justification, either in morals or public policy, that the revenue so raised is applied to popular education. Let us cast aside that pernicious doctrine that we may do evil that good may result. A few dollars to each child, meaning a few days more at school, is a poor return for debasing and debauching the public sentiment of an entire commonwealth.

There is no moral difference between the sale of liquor by the State and the sale by one citizen to another; but the official sanction given to liquor-drinking by the State is more potent for evil in perverting the moral sense of the people and in lowering the moral standard. We desire to give our hearty endorsement to every effort now making, or that may be made, for ridding the State of the nefarious traffic, in every form; and we commend the Christian Temperance Worker, the Woman's Christian Temperance Union, and all other agencies that are laboring to this end,

W. H. WALLACE, Chairman.

E. P. HUTSON, Secretary.

Report on Epworth Orphanage.

We gratefully acknowledge the mercies and blessings of God, which have made the Conference year of 1906 another one of prosperity at the Epworth Orphanage. The goodness of the Lord to his needy ones, has been exemplified in the provision made for the inmates of our several homes. We note with pleasure the growing interest on the part of our Church in the Orphanage and its work, and this growth of interest is evinced by the fact that there is a steady increase in the yearly income of the institution.

The number of children provided for during the year has been larger than at any other time in the history of the Orphanage, but the receipts from all sources have been adequate for the support of the large family of little ones, besides there have been considerable improvements in the way of building and repairing. The plans, which are being in a measure operated throughout the Conference, for the maintenance and development of the institution are among the best of which we know. Particularly do we emphasize the special support system, and urge upon our people to co-operate with the management in carrying it out. A number of new pledges have been secured during the year, while former ones which were voluntarily made and fulfilled have been discontinued.

We report the admission of 39 children into the Orphanage during the conference year, and 22 have gone out. Four of these finished the course of study in the Orphanage graded school. One is doing well as a young carpenter, the others have been returned to relatives. Of those who finished in our school, one has matriculated in the Freshman class of Wofford College, one entered Columbia College, and one is taking a course in a business college in Columbia, all without cost to the Orphanage. The other one has a position by which she is providing for herself.

The inmates now number 139, and others have been accepted, to be admitted soon. The financial condition is an improvement upon what it was a year ago. The generous offer of $3,000 made by Mr. George W. Williams with which to build a home as a memorial to his mother, was gladly accepted. The money has been received, and now the Martha Fort Williams Home adorns the Orphanage campus.

FARM.

The seasons have been favorable for gardening and a portion of the field crops. The grain and forage crops have averaged a fairly good yield. The corn crop is particularly good, the yield of cotton is not as good as it was last year. The hauling done with our teams, the crops from the two horse farm and the vegetables from the garden are a great help to us, in the matter of saving expenses.

MARBLE YARD AND PRINTING OFFICE.

The working force in these industrial departments have had work enough to keep them generally employed.

The collections for the output from the Marble Yard have not been as good so far as usual.

The printing department while run altogether by our own boys has done well. The boys work and are being trained in the different branches of industry operated by the Orphanage, and the girls are learning and doing in all of the departments of our domestic life.

BUILDING AND IMPROVEMENT.

The Guy Leonard Home, which was reported as being almost completed at the last annual Conference, was finished in the early spring and was immediately occupied. The larger boys of the Orphanage family have been transferred from the R. L. Coleman Home to this one. It is located on the extreme eastern portion of the campus and makes a splendid appearance. The Martha Fort Williams Home, a neat brick building of ten rooms, was begun and finished during the year. The furniture for same is now being received, and it will soon be ready for occupancy. It has a capacity for 30 children and their matron. The capacity of all the homes of the Orphanage is now sufficient for 200 children. The value of all orphanage property is estimated at $100,000.

SCHOOL.

The orphanage graded school has never been a more important factor in the training and development of our children than it is at this time. The teachers are doing faithful and efficient work and the children are having a splendid opportunity to acquire a good primary education. Prof. H. Z. Nabers and his four lady helpers, Misses Beasley, Godley, Magill, and Whitaker constitute the teaching force.

RELIGIOUS.

The orphanage owns a church building which is located on the campus. It is an appointment on the Edgewood Circuit and supplied by a regular pastor. Church privileges are therefore brought to our very doors, thereby obviating the necessities for absences from worship on the part of the orphanage family except in cases of sickness. Religious services are held in the chapel each work day morning and two in the church on Sunday. All the moral and religious influences operating upon the minds and hearts of the children here are having beneficent results. As the children become old enough, they make application for membership in, and assume the vows of our Church.

HEALTH.

The health of the orphanage family has been unusually good. None of the children have been seriously sick during the year. We are grateful for the fact, that not a single one has died in more than five years. Dr. Philpot the physician of the orphanage has given his best services to the children of our homes for several years whenever they have been needed, and has done so without making any charge whatever. We cannot think of him more highly than we ought to think. As the year which is just closing passes in review before us, we see and realize that the good hand of our God has been upon us, and we humbly and reverently say 'He is good, for His mercy endureth forever.'

The Board has re-elected the Rev. W. B. Wharton as superintendent for the ensuing year, and requests the presiding Bishop to confirm this action by appointing him to that position.

Respectfully submitted, *

EDWARD EHRLICH, President.

ANDREW C. DIBBLE, Secretary.

Report on District Conference Journals.

Your committee on District Conference Journals beg leave to make the following report :

We are pleased to state that all the Journals were in the hands of the committee:

The Journals of the Spartanburg and Anderson Districts are neatly prepared, but we suggest that a larger ledger be secured in place of the small books used.

We wish to commend the tabulated reports on Education, Sunday Schools, Spiritual State of the Church, Missions, and Financial Condition recorded in the Marion District Journal.

Except the fact that there are blots and erasures, the Cokesbury Journal is well kept.

The Charleston, North Charleston, Columbia, Greenville, Orangeburg, Rock Hill, Florence, and Sumter Journals are neatly and well kept.

JOHN H. GRAVES, Chairman.

R. C. BOULWARE, Secretary.

Report of Board of Missions.

There are great reasons for the Church to be encouraged in her missionary efforts both abroad and at home. The only discouraging feature in our foreign work is that doors are being opened to us faster than we are prepared to enter them. There is not a missionary field of our Church which does not promise great success; and it is hard to say which one of these fields presents to the Church the most urgent claims.

We are grateful that the proper authorities are devising and executing plans to prepare the Church for meeting the enlarged opportunities which have come to us. Our people must be taught the responsibility that is upon them in this matter; and the efforts of the General Board all look to this end. The periodical, Go Forward, is a missionary sheet filled each month with the latest news from the field and with the best missionary thought of the day. The small subscription price puts this paper in easy reach of all our people.

The Young People's Missionary Department has become an important factor in developing a missionary conscience among our young people. We most heartily commend this department, especially to our Sunday schools and Epworth Leagues. The Methodist Training School for Christian Workers at Nashville, Tennessee, has passed beyond the experimental stage, and now occupies a place among the leading missionary agencies of our Church. We earnestly hope that a good number of our young preachers will attend this school.

In the missionary fields of our Conference there has been in many instances most gratifying progress. Some of these, long supported by the board, now take their place among our self-supporting charges, notably among these is Cumberland, in the city of Charleston. The missionary collections in the Conference are steadily advancing. Five districts, viz: Charleston, Marion, Orangeburg, Spartanburg, and Sumter have each paid more than 100 per cent. of both the foreign and domestic missionary assessments. One hundred and fifty-nine charges have paid the assessments in full, many of these reporting a surplus. The assessment for foreign missions upon the Conference has been paid, with a surplus. The board wishes to put on record its appreciation of the part which the presiding elders have taken in this work. A presiding elder fully alive to the missionary interests of the Church can but be a great inspirational force to the preachers and people of his district.

Rev. R. A. Child and Rev. J. L. Stokes have been elected as trustees of the Belin Fund in place of Rev. A. J. Stokes and Rev. W. A. Rogers, deceased.

We ask the appointment of Rev. P. F. Kilgo and Rev. H. B. Browne as Conference Secretaries of Missions.

M. L. CARLISLE, Chairman.

P. F. KILGO, Secretary.

Memoirs of Preachers who Died During the Year 1906.

Bishop J. C. Keener.

John Christian Keener was born in the city of Baltimore, February 7, 1819, and died of heart failure in New Orleans, January 20, 1906. His father was a prominent merchant and a devoted Methodist, keeping an open house for the itinerant preachers. This was a valuable school for the young man, who thus came into close friendly relation to many of the leading men of the Church of which, later in life, he was to become a great leader. At the age of twelve, he was sent to Wilbraham Academy in Massachusetts, and afterward to Wesleyan University from which institution he graduated in 1835. For a few years he engaged in business with his father, but, later, removed to Alabama, where, in 1843, he entered the ministry and began his remarkable life work. His strong preaching attracted the notice of the Bishops, and he was sent to the difficult work in New Orleans. In that city he lived continuously for more than half a century.

In 1858 Dr. Keener was made editor of the New Orleans Christian Advocate, and, with a brief interruption during the Civil War, when he was made superintendent of chaplains of the Confederate army, he held this position until 1870, when he was elected Bishop at Memphis. Bishop W. W. Duncan, in the Southern Christian Advocate of January 25, 1906, has this to say of Bishop Keener:

"Among his brethren he was always in the forefront in all the great interests and enterprises of his Church, especially in the great educational and missionary movements. He not only urged upon his people the importance of liberal response to the great enterprises of the Church, but he set them the example of generous giving. His freedom from anything like selfishness or covetousness was rarely, if ever, equaled. Therefore, his brethren of the ministry loved and honored him.

"His devotion to the educational interests of his church was recognized by all, and was very remarkable, even to the last of his life. Our flourishing Mexican Missionary work was, humanly speaking, his creation.

As a writer and author he was attractive and very suggestive * * * He was a student and kept himself posted with the best and most recent publications. As a preacher it is not easy to describe him. He often preached with great power, and there was a sweep and breadth and depth that was rarely seen in other men. Yet at times there was a lack of sharp and clear outline and definition. But whether as preacher or conversationalist, he was always charming, suggestive, and helpful.

In 1898 Bishop Keener asked to retire from the active duties of his office. In his address on that occasion he said: I have endeavored to discharge conscientiously and prayerfully the delicate and difficult duties which devolved upon me in caring for both the ministers and churches of our large connection.

‘My conviction as to the Scriptural value of Methodist doctrine has never wavered since my conversion at the mourners bench in 1837. I thank God that He heard my cry; that He called me to be a Methodist itinerant in the far South. Having had opportunity for so long a time to know and estimate our connectional system. I wish to record my testimony as to its value—a system that places a pastor in every church and provides a church for every pastor; that penetrates every neighborhood, preaches at every cross-roads, builds a church in every village from the Atlantic to the Pacific.’

Bishop Keener always gave great emphasis to the New Birth as the keystone of Wesleyan doctrine. It was his experience and he preached it. He ever insisted that Scriptural Holiness and the Witness of the Spirit were fundamental in the Methodist Church.

The closing years of rest and retirement of this leader of the hosts of God were spent in the city of New Orleans, where he had lived so long, and which he so much loved. Shadows fell about him in the earth-life, but the spirit saw the visions and drew ever nearer to the blessed realities of the “heavenly things.” His long life was given to Christ and the Church, and “his name is as ointment poured forth.”

Bishop J. J. Tigert.

John James Tigert was born in Louisville, Ky., November 25, 1856, and died at Tulsa, Indian Territory, November 21, 1906, within four days of his fiftieth birthday. His boyhood was spent in his native city. He graduated at Vanderbilt University in 1877, and was tutor and professor in that institution from 1881 to 1890. From 1890 to 1894 he was pastor in Kansas City. In 1894 he was elected Book Editor and filled that office until 1906 when he was elected Bishop.

The Nashville Christian Advocate of November 23, 1906, has this to say of Bishop Tigert :

"He was a man of vigorous physique and of strong mind. His capacity for work was enormous. When a student at Vanderbilt, supporting himself by teaching in the sub-college classes (which had not at that time been abolished there), his working day was from seven o'clock one morning till one or two the next. His work later as a teacher in university departments of Church History and of Moral Philosophy, though the work of a young man, gave occasion to no question as to his ability to fill with satisfaction either chair. Of his career as Book Editor and Editor of the Review it is superfluous to speak. For twelve years he filled this place, reading and studying throughout the whole field of theological and philosophic investigation, taking advantage of his access to the best books and periodicals in these important departments. He became thereby probably the best scholar, in this particular field, of the whole Church.

"He was a strong and spiritual preacher, holding close to the Word of God and enriching the old truths with the setting of current thought and matured philosophies. Not especially graceful in delivery, he nevertheless held his audiences with a powerful hold, and was welcomed as helpful and instructive wherever he went.

"His style in writing was lucid and vigorous. The English of his 'Constitutional History of Methodism' is exceptionally good. This book, with his 'System of Logic', will be his most concrete representation to future generations, though probably his most effective work was done in editorials, book reviews, and the like, printed in the Quarterly Review. At least two collections of these into consistent volumes were made, the little treatise on 'Theism' being the most typical. His volume of essays on the 'The Preacher Himself' is a helpful manual for the young minister. His last printed volume is a series of papers on 'The Christianity of Christ and His Apostles,' which is virtually a criticism and correction of Harnack's scanty and unsatisfying definition of Christianity. The field of thought which it covers can hardly be said to be familiar to the average reader in these United States."

The Southern Christian Advocate, November 29, 1906, has this estimate of Bishop Tigert :

"As a preacher, Bishop Tigert may be reckoned among the really great preachers of Southern Methodism. His message from the pulpit had power--the kind of power we should naturally expect from the man himself. It was first of all strongly and convincingly intellectual. It dealt always with the great fundamental gospel themes, and the method of treatment was that of the scholar and thinker. He was thoroughly analytic, searching with a keen logic the very heart of his theme, and however great or profound the nature of its truth, it was brought out in perfect clearness and simplicity. There was no muddiness in the current of Bishop Tigert's preaching and no confusing tangle in the processes of his thought. From this standpoint of careful and painstaking workmanship, his preaching was a model of sermonic art.

"He was cut off at his very entrance to the Episcopate, and no one can tell just what would have been his specific contribution to the influence of this great office. Yet of a few things we can be quite sure: the office would have lost nothing in its record for great preaching. Moreover, his own immense capacity for work, his surrender of himself completely to any duty his Church might put upon him, the accuracy and breadth of his knowledge, his thorough scholarship, and his methods as a thinker, would, no doubt, have largely influenced the entire ministry of the Church and have left a deep impress both directly and indirectly."

The death of such a man in the prime of life, at the beginning of what promised to be a career of great executive ability, is seemingly inexplicable, but God knows best for us, and we bow to His will.

Two of our Bishops gone! The one a veteran of years and scars of many trials and victories; the other just assuming the armor of leadership in God's hosts. They stand together, we believe, before the great Captain of our salvation, and hear Him say, "Well, done, good and faithful servants. Enter into my joy."

Nathan L. Wiggins.

Nathan Lucas Wiggins, son of George P. and Emma Wiggins, was born at Webster, Sumter county, Florida, July 28, 1871. He spent the early part of his life on the farm. He was converted May 31, 1889.

In September, 1889, he entered Emory College, Oxford, Ga., from which institution he graduated June 14, 1893. During his junior year at college he felt called to preach the Gospel. He was licensed to preach April 23, 1892, and preached his first sermon at Midway, Ga.

Brother Wiggins joined the Florida Conference in January, 1894. During 1894, '95, '96, '97, and '98 he served Cocoanut Grove, Duval, St. Augustine, Midway, and Waukeena charges. He then took a transfer to the South Carolina Conference, and was sent in 1899 to Loris circuit, where he served two years. He was then sent to Chesterfield circuit, where he did splendid service for four years. In 1905 he was sent to Cameron, where his health failed; and at the Annual Conference in Spartanburg last December, Bishop Candler appointed him to St. Paul's Station, in the city of Greenville, hoping that the invigora-ting climate of the up-country might be beneficial. But he lived only a short time, never being able to preach in his new charge. On February 17, 1906, in St. Paul's parsonage, Greenville, S. C., he calmly passed away. He was buried in Mount Hope Cemetery, Florence, S. C.

Brother Wiggins was married January 28, 1894, to Mrs. Julia Wayne Bethea, of Florence, S. C., who with their two daughters, Candler and Julia Ray, cherish the memory of a most devoted husband and father.

It was during Brother Wiggins's pastorate in Chesterfield that I became intimately associated with him. Naturally he was timid and reserved in manner. In my quarterly visits to his charge I found him to be thoughtful, appreciative, and companionable. As our friendship grew he gradually came to speak more freely of the deep movings of his heart, his thirst for knowledge, and his absorbing desire to become a master workman for his Lord.

He was a diligent student. When he received his diploma at the hands of President Warren A. Candler in Emory College, he did not cease to toil in his larger investigations after truth. He feasted on good books—books that stimulated his mind and fed his spirit. Hence, his sermons were thoughtful, spiritual, helpful. He had broad ideas and high ideals; was transparently pure in life; his speech was chaste—his lips never spake guile. His aspirations along the higher lines of true manhood were unmistakable; he labored to better equip himself in order to be more useful. His faith was as simple and pure as that of a little child; he was meek in spirit and rejoiced in the work of an itinerant minister.

In his home life he was thoughtful, loving, true. I never saw greater devotion to loved ones in the life of any man.

Measured by the calendar years, his was a short life—his sun went down while it was yet noon. But measured by the character he attained unto, the enrichment of his trustful soul and of the souls that were about him, and the fruit he bore for his Lord—his was a long life. As an evangel of love he enriched the world, and he now rests in the full blessedness of large reward in our Father's House.

A. J. Stokes, D. D.

Andrew Jackson Stokes was born in Colleton county, S. C., August 25, 1836, and died in Greenwood, S. C., April 13, 1906. He was buried in the old Quaker cemetery, Camden, S. C. He had a good mother, and to her faithfulness to the boy, left fatherless in early childhood, is to be attributed much of the depth of purpose and strength of character that made him the man he was in after years. In October, 1846, he accepted Christ as his personal Saviour, and ever after pursued steadily the path of righteousness.

He received his preparatory training in Cokesbury, and was graduated from Wofford College in 1859, from which institution he afterwards received the degree of Master of Arts. In 1898 the degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred on him by Emory College.

He was licensed to preach in 1858, and was admitted into the South Carolina Annual Conference in December, 1859. For forty-six years he served his Church and his Lord as an itinerant Methodist preacher ; he worked hard and efficiently along the higher lines of ever enlarging usefulness. For nine years he was on circuits, one year was college professor, twenty-one years on stations, and fifteen years on districts. His appointments were as follows : In 1860, junior preacher on Greenville circuit ; 1861, Spartanburg circuit ; 1862, Orangeburg circuit ; 1863, professor in Spartanburg Female College ; 1864-65, Bamberg ; 1866, Aiken ; 1867-68, Allendale circuit ; 1869, Unionville and Fair Forest circuit ; 1870, Unionville station ; 1871-72, Camden station ; 1873, Georgetown station ; 1874-77, Marion station ; 1878-80, Sumter station ; 1881-82, Newberry circuit ; 1883-86, Sumter district ; 1887-90, Marion district ; 1891-93, Sumter station ; 1894-95, Newberry station ; 1896, Laurens station ; 1897-98, Georgetown station ; 1899-1902, Charleston district ; 1903-1905, Florence district. At our last Annual Conference he asked for a superannuated relation, which request was granted, and yet he continued to labor even up to the very last, having projected some special work at Ellenton.

His first wife was a daughter of the late Rev. Dr. Whitefoord Smith. By this marriage he had six children, one of whom, Rev. Whitefoord Smith Stokes, M. D., is a member of this Conference. His second wife was the daughter of the late Rev. Samuel Wragg Capers. By this marriage there is one daughter, who is now the wife of Rev. W. C. Kirkland, a member of this Conference. In the parsonage home of the latter Dr. Stokes spent the last few months of his life.

Dr. Stokes was a student of good literature ; his library gave evidence of his literary tastes, and his devotion to the higher lines of culture. He did not cease to study when college days were over, but kept on storing his mind, even to the last, with the best thought of strong and vigorous writers. And so it was to be expected that his sermons should show thoroughness of preparation—reflecting the depth of his researches and the devoutness of his spirit, so manifest in his useful career. And he loved to preach. I believe his greatest joy was realized in ministering to the great congregations.

In our peculiar economy, much of the efficiency of the current work in the Conference depends largely on the wisdom and skill manifested in projecting plans and lines of operation by boards and committees. In this department Dr. Stokes labored with unabating zeal and energy ; he never slighted or neglected work committed to him by his brethren. With painstaking care and fidelity of purpose he sought diligently to promote the great movements of his Church. In the matter of Christian education, in the missionary interests of the Church, and in all other lines of Christian benevolence, especially in projecting the work of the Epworth Orphanage, Dr. Stokes was eminently useful.

He was a true pastor. He never wearied in this work, but always and everywhere he searched for the sick and the sorrowing, and the poor and unfortunate. Little children were his especial care. As a good shepherd, he cared for all the flock of Christ.

He was one of the noblemen of earth. He did not give place to the things that dwarf and soil one's purer manhood. His conversation was pure and elevating. I never knew him to indulge in coarse jest or questionable anecdote. His language would have inspired a timid maiden or encouraged a bashful child.

Dr. Stokes was deeply spiritual, as was evidenced in his home life, his intercourse with his brethren, his devotion to the interests of his Master's kingdom, and in his humble walk before God and man. I wish here to place on record a few lines personal. Having enjoyed his friendship and confidence, especially during the closing years of his life, Dr. Stokes said to me one day in the privacy of his room : "Brother Browne, I want to talk to you as my friend. I may not live much longer ; nature has lifted her danger signal ; I may pass away at any time ; but it is all right, for I have examined well the foundations of my faith, and I want to say to you, brother, I am ready to work on—I am willing to go at any time."

That scene, that hour, those words of pure gold, those eyes that looked as with the eyes of a seer—I shall ne'er forget. Within less than ten days from that hour this prophet of God went home to Heaven. Blessed be the memory of our brother who toiled as a faithful itinerant minister for nearly half a century !

Jesse Alexander Clifton, D. D.

Rev. Jesse Alexander Clifton, D. D., son of Jesse C. Clifton and Mary H. Walker, was born in the eastern part of Chester county, S. C., September 26 1845, and died at Marion, S. C., the 14th of June, 1906.

His father was by occupation a farmer, and served in the Confederate army as lieutenant and captain of militia, and was regarded as a man of decided courage, energy, and integrity.

Among his ancestors were Alexander Walker, Justice John Gaston, William Clifton, and William Heath; all of whom came from Ireland and settled in Chester, S. C., before and during the American Revolution. His great-grand mother Esther Gaston, was a woman of marked devotion to the cause of her adopted country, and is honorably mentioned in Mrs. Elliott's "Women of the Revolution." It was through William Heath and his noble wife that Methodism was introduced in that part of Chester county.

He grew up on his father's farm, where he found much pleasure in both open fields and woods, and developing a strong constitution and receiving superior moral training from his parents.

When the war came, although he was under sixteen years of age, he went to the front and was with Hampton and Butler for four years. He was a scout for two years, and did many acts of daring. On one occasion he went through the Yankee lines in the night and captured General Meade's saddle horse, hitched just outside the tent. He had a deep sabre cut on the side of his neck, and another in the corner of his eye, and a bullet just over his heart, which was never removed.

After the war he did much to aid in the redemption of his State from radical rule.

He received the advantages of the schools of his community and also the classical school conducted by Prof. Matthew Elder. He was a great reader all of his life, and all the standard works, both British and American, poetry and prose and theology, had engaged his thoughtful attention. After the war he went to the University of Virginia, where, in addition to studies in the literary department, he graduated at the head of his class in law, and was elected final orator by his class, and received compliments on his speech that have lingered in the history of the university through the years.

A sermon preached by the Rev. J. L. Shuford deeply convicted him of sin, and for three months he had a terrible battle, which resulted in his sound and powerful conversion, alone in his room at the hour of midnight. He joined the Methodist Church at El Bethel, in Chester county, in 1868.

With his conversion came his clear call to the ministry, and in the same year he was licensed to preach. He served one year as a local preacher and was admitted on trial into the South Carolina Conference in 1869 at Cheraw. His appointments have been as follows: Columbia circuit, 1870-2; Fairfield circuit 1873; Batesburg circuit, 1874-6; Saluda circuit, 1877-8; Graham circuit, 1879-80; St. Matthews circuit, 1881-2; Spring Street, Charleston, 1883; Newberry station, 1884-5; Central church, Spartanburg, 1886-9; Buncombe Street, Greenville, 1890-1; Bethel, Charleston, 1892-5; Abbeville station, 1896-7; Sumter station, 1898-1901; St. Paul's, Orangeburg, 1902-5; Marion, 1906, where he died in the thirty-seventh year of his active work in the South Carolina Conference.

Dr. Clifton was unique---a genius. In a masterful address he once said God had made only one man like himself and would not make another. He stood out in his individuality before men. He could say and do things that would have been the undoing of anyone else.

He was a man of wonderful magnetism and reached up and down the scale of life in helping men, the highest and the humblest.

His sympathy for people in trouble of any kind brought into action all he had, and brought out the real greatness of his nature. The greatness of greatness is nowhere the better shown than in helping with our all those who are in sin and shame and sorrow---This he did on every occasion.

His humor, wit, and pathos, together with his strong intellectual powers and fine oratorical ability, put him in great demand for lectures, speeches, dedications of churches, and school and college commencements all over the State and beyond. It is highly probable that he did more of this kind of work than any man in the South Carolina Conference.

He left nothing written---all his lectures and speeches and sermons were worked out in his heart and head, and were recorded only in the minds and hearts of his hearers and in the books of God. In every charge he ever served his popularity took in all people of whatever Church. The negroes, for whom he often preached, idolized him.

His sermons were remarkable in that they reached up to the strongest mind in the audience and down to the lowest, and thus he got hold of all. He was one of the finest preachers of our land, and at times climbed to marvelous heights of eloquence and power. There was always brains and gospel and pathos and the way to Christ in every sermon he preached---and he loved to preach.

He was strong in his moral character, true as steel in his friendships, unwavering in his faith and courage, devoted to the work of his Lord, ready to help any man that was down, and as gentle and guileless and unsuspicious as a little child.

"Jesse Clifton"---that is what he has been called, and that is the way he will be remembered by the people at large. On the recommendation of some of the most literary men in Charleston, S. C., Rutherford College, N. C., conferred the degree of Doctor of Divinity upon him when he was pastor of Bethel Church. But the public had long before given him that title and the higher one of "Jesse Clifton." It is only to remarkable men who are too great for titles to hang on to them that the people will give pet names. Unborn children will have handed down to them the sayings and doings of "Jesse Clifton."

On November 24, 1868, Dr. Clifton was married to Miss Mary E. Hicklin, daughter of Dr. W. J. Hicklin, a prominent physician of Chester county. They were devoted to each other through all of their married life, and she stood by him with the truest heroism in all of his itinerant career. Two people could not have been better suited to each other as man and wife than they. Dr. Jesse A. Clifton, Jr., Mrs. Mary C. Kelly, J. Sam Clifton, Hon. John Hicklin Clifton, Mrs. Josephine Camp, and Mrs. Kate M. Hill are their living children. They have one buried at Newberry, and one at Greenville, who died in infancy.

He was elected by the South Carolina Conference as a delegate to the last four General Conferences, where he rendered efficient service.

“Jesse Clifton” was perhaps the most universally popular and beloved member of the South Carolina Conference. For years one of the features of the South Carolina Conference was his speech on the resolution of thanks for the entertainment of the Conference.

Dr. Clifton fell asleep without a struggle while sitting in a chair in the parsonage at Marion; his ever faithful wife was at his side, fanning him at the time. The interment was at Sumter, and people came from different parts of the State to pay their respects to his memory. Camp Glover, Confederate Veterans, Orangeburg, of which he was chaplain; and the Board of Stewards of the Orangeburg station, where he had served the previous four years and was exceedingly popular, sent delegations. The funeral services partook of the nature of a memorial service and many high and loving tributes were paid to his memory. Dr. C. C. Brown, pastor of the Baptist church at Sumter, and the Methodist churches at Marion and Orangeburg held memorial services, and various charges throughout the Conference have passed resolutions in memory of “Jesse Clifton.”

John Wesley Humbert.

Rev. J. W. Humbert was admitted on trial into the South Carolina Conference at Greenville, November 30, 1859. Death severed his connection with this body on Saturday, 3:30 p. m., July 28, 1906, at his home in Newberry, whither he went after his superannuation at the Darlington Conference of 1904. During the forty-five years of his active work he made full proof of his ministry. From his first appointment on Rutherford circuit in North Carolina, where he was junior preacher under James S. Ervine, in 1859, to his last appointment on the Ridgeville circuit in 1904, he was a hard-working and conscientious and successful preacher and pastor. He was not only a man of one book, and that book the Bible, but he was a preacher of one work, and that work the cure of souls according to the polity of the Methodist itineracy. He attended strictly and closely to his own business--the business of the Lord's house assigned to him in his numerous appointments. He was ever promptly at his post, and was ready up to the very close of his ministry, which was the close of his life, to give account of his stewardship. He never served the Conference except in the pastorate, and was 27 years on circuits and 18 years on stations. He came as near as any member of this body I have known to a full discharge of all his duties as a shepherd of the flock committed to his charge--a modest but faithful under-shepherd with the Shepherd and Bishop of souls. He loved our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity (Eph 6:24) and all those for whom Christ died, and it was his first choice to share with the Saviour in the glory of the salvation of men. There were given to him seals to his ministry in all the thirty charges which he at different times served, but in some of these charges it was permitted him to see in an eminent degree, and in a gloriously conspicuous sense, the pleasure of the Lord, according to promise (see Isaiah, 53-10), prospering in the hand of Christ, and so in his hands as a servant of Christ and a co-worker with Him. He was never more successful in winning souls than on the Chester Circuit in 1873-4. Perhaps there was never such a revival in the town of Chester as that conducted by him while he was pastor there. It continued for seven weeks and was a blessing to all the churches of the place. There were 250 accessions on the Chester circuit the two years he was pastor there. The next two years (1875-6) he had great success as a soul-winner on Black Swamp circuit. There are evidences wherever he went and served of the gracious and salutary and conservative influence of his godly ministrations and his godly life. Sincerity, consistency, faithfulness--these three essential elements of truth found expression in his conduct, character, and behavior. I knew him well and for a long time, first at school and then in our common work in the South Carolina Conference, and I hold him in memory as a true man. I loved him. I love him. He was a fervid, earnest, instructive preacher, always preaching in fidelity to his trust and frequently in demonstration of the Spirit and in demonstration of power. He was a tender and loving pastor. He was watchful and careful and painstaking in administration. To be sure he had a passion for souls; but he did not consider his work done in the conversion and edification of believers, and in the ingathering of those without into the ark of Christ's Church. No; he looked after Church finances, after the collections for benevolent purposes, after general and denominational education, after the Sunday schools, after our woman's work for missions, and which is a very important matter, after the church records. He was conscientious in giving attendance to all the work and to each detail of the work of the churches and charges he served.

John Wesley Humbert was born of South Carolina parents, who were temporarily residing at the time of his birth at Knoxville, Tenn., June 10th, 1835. His father, Rev. John Girond Humbert, who served in the South Carolina Conference for one year (1829), and his mother Miss Mary E. Guinn, were natives of Beaufort district. The Humberts were Huguenots. John was educated at Cokesbury Conference School and at Wofford College, where he graduated in 1850, sharing the second honor of his class with A. J. Stokes, whose memoir has just been read. Five of this class joined the South Carolina Conference: Humbert, Stafford, Stokes, Weaver, Weber.

Early in his ministry (October 1865), he married Mrs. M. M. D'Oyley, a daughter of the late Gen. H. H. Kinard, of Newberry. They walked and worked side by side for forty-five years and more, happy in each other's work---without a complete parallel in all the history of the South Carolina Conference. She survives her husband and continues her work.

William Anson Rogers.

Rev. W. A. Rogers was admitted on trial into the South Carolina Conference in December, 1872. He died at his home in Spartanburg, September 29, of the current year. The little more than a third of a century of service he gave to this body is held in grateful appreciation by his sorely bereaved brethren, met here to do honor to his memory. It was not a surprising thing that William Rogers should become a preacher of the Gospel. I was his pastor when he was licensed to preach, and, in due time, was recommended from the Bishopville circuit for admission on trial into the traveling connection. The people there at his home church would have been glad to have had him as their pastor the first year of his ministry, or in any succeeding year of his active work among us. I think I may say without the least exaggeration that he was best appreciated where he was longest and best known. The good boy and pious youth, growing up in a consecrated Methodist home, went at once and without protest or hesitation into the work to which he was called of God and did faithful, useful, and acceptable work in the vineyard of the Church as long as his health allowed. Indeed, such was his sense of duty and such his consuming zeal, that he worked beyond his strength to labor and to endure. I heard his first sermon and I heard him preach frequently after that, and on every occasion I heard him, I was solemnly impressed. The message was never discounted by the messenger. He preached because God called him to preach and prompted each sermon he preached. He commanded himself to you as a man of God. His ministry was given almost exclusively to the pastorate. He was ten years on circuit and nineteen years on stations. He was all the more useful and commanding in the pulpit from the strong hold which his pastoral work gave him on the confidence and affection of his people. I think he stood first among us in the delicate and exacting duties and details of the pastorate. He was tenderly sympathetic as the personal friend of each member of his flock and by this means could reach and did reach his people in the offices of personal service as in the work of preaching the gospel of salvation and comfort. He was careful and sympathetic in matters, to do which might seem of little moment, but to neglect which would be a lack and loss. For instance, he gave close attention to the rolls and records of the charges he served; and then he and his faithful and ever-helpful wife were exceptionally careful of the parsonage and grounds, planting flowers, shade and fruit trees, and otherwise preparing for their successors in office and residence. William Rogers was a gentleman by birth and breeding, but especially through that "gentleness" which along with love, peace, long-suffering, goodness, faith, meekness, and the rest, is the fruit of the Spirit. Oh! it is sweet to cherish the memory of this gentle man, this lovely Christian gentleman as he came in and went out amongst the homes of our people in South Carolina for the past third of a century. I can scarcely risk myself in writing what I feel and reading to you what I write about this brotherly man, your friend, and mine.

The subject of this memoir was born in Bishopville, S. C., September 29, 1849. His father, William Rogers, was a native of Connecticut; and his mother, Anna Jane McCollum, of Sumter district, S. C. It was my good fortune to live for two years next door to the Rogers' home in Bishopville, some years after both the parents had died. I found the sanctified influence of that godly home still abiding in 1872-3, the years I lived there. It is no surprising thing that such a man as William Anson Rogers should be the product of such a home as that of his father and mother. He had the very best advantages afforded at that time by his neighborhood for his early education. He spent one year at the Washington-Lee University under Robt. E. Lee before he entered Wofford College in 1868. He graduated at Wofford four years later in a class of 16. By the choice of his class he was their valedictorian. He was a loyal son of his alma mater; was a member of the board of trustees at the time of his death.

The happiest event in the life of our brother, after his espousal to Christ, was his marriage on March 26, 1876, to Miss Annie M. Anderson, who with seven of their children, survive him. One, the name-sake of his father, preceded him to the grave and to heaven. Mrs. Rogers was reared a Presbyterian, the daughter of a Presbyterian clergyman of Alabama. Wisely and beautifully and sweetly has she discharged her duties and borne the burdens of our itineracy alongside her happy and loving husband. "They twain" were one in the one work of their common ministry and mission for thirty years and more.

Samuel A Weber.

The Wives of Preachers.

Perhaps no greater loss can come to any man, except the loss of his own soul, than that sustained in the death of his wife. The splendid records of the heroic achievement of consecrated itinerants are largely due to the self-sacrificing devotion of their loving wives. Their labors are often unheralded and the results of their services will never be fully known or adequately appreciated until the books are opened in the realms of eternal day for the inspection of an admiring multitude. The parsonage home, presided over by a true Christian woman, is the tired pastor's earthly paradise. Here he may be refreshed and rested from his arduous labors; here he may be inspired with hope when the approaching duties seem too great for his energy; here he may be reinforced for future conflicts when urged on to a battle which, at times, appears to be a losing one.

Below appears a list of the loving wives who have died this year. We record the barest facts, express our appreciation of their services, and extend our deepest sympathies to the bereaved ones.

Mrs. Emma Zimmerman Auld, widow of Rev. Frederick Auld, was about fifty-five years old, being born about that many years ago. She was born in a Methodist parsonage, gracefully presided over her husband's home during his life time, and her last service was rendered in keeping the house of her son who is a member of this Conference.

Mrs. Mary Frances Clyde, wife of the Rev. T. J. Clyde, was born in Camden, S. C., March 3, 1839; was married on November 20, 1866; and died March 8, 1906.

Mrs. Margaret L. Gibson, wife of the Rev. T. F. Gibson, was born March, 1864, and died January 5, 1906.

Mrs. Margaret Lavinia Harmon, wife of Rev. George T. Harmon, was born June 24, 1842; was married December 17, 1873; and died October 7, 1906.

Mrs. Lillian Hutson, wife of Rev. E. Palmer Hutson, was born June 4, 1862; was married April 3, 1888; and died September 29, 1906.

Mrs. Vermelle C. Martin, wife of Rev. W. Smith Martin, was born January 21, 1855; was married March 15, 1877; and died April 1, 1906.

Mrs. Leila Alma Neely, wife of Rev. John W. Neely, was born September 6, 1885; was married in 1903; and died September 23, 1906.

Mrs. Mantie Louise Shell, wife of Rev. Jno. W. Shell, was born October 23, 1863; was married December 6, 1887; and died October 26, 1906.
